

Nehemiah Journey: Day 52 of 52 (October 27, 2021)

Now what? We have come to the end of our 52-day journey so what do we do now? Hopefully, we have grown in our joy and consistency in prayer. Whatever you started praying about 52 days ago or somewhere in this journey was worth praying about then and is worth continuing to pray about now. Many of you have shared how God has answered or is answering specific prayer requests in your life. Why would we not all the more cry out to Him in specific situations?

I pray through these 52 days God has touched your hearts in many ways, I know I have been blessed by the testimonies, victories, struggles, and requests you have shared with me. I am convinced the best is yet to come! Would you say an extra prayer today for our Family Fall Fest this evening? Pray for the weather to cooperate and more importantly that God would allow us the opportunity to love on our neighbors and share with them the glorious good news of the Gospel!

Keep praying, God IS MOVING!
